EARLY CAREER TEACHERS PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCE

SATURDAY 24TH JUNE 2017
ST ANNE'S COLLEGE 09.00 – 16.15

Are you a secondary school teacher in your first 3 years of teaching? Come along to a day full of fresh ideas and research-informed CPD!

The conference will consist of a keynote lecture, a series of workshops and a panel discussion exploring different routes in career progression. Lunch and refreshments will be provided.

Keynote: Marking: monsters and myths - or what do we really know?

Dr Victoria Elliott will explore the implications for hard-pressed teachers of her recent research review on assessment and marking in schools (conducted for the Education Endowment Foundation).

Workshops will include:

Managing and de-escalating difficult behaviour
Student voice in formative assessment
Teacher collaboration in support of vulnerable learners
Values-based education
Mindfulness in secondary schools
Extremism in schools and the Prevent Agenda
Subject-specific classroom-based research poster displays
